Great elevator story :)Von vpb0iTwo strangers remains stuck in an elevator and there is a connectedness and sexual attraction, though it's pitch black. They do not see themselves, but feel only. Fascinating!...and what happens when the power comes back and the doors open?2 von 2 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Elevator to happiness...Von Magritte"" really knows what kind of books I enjoy! So when this one was recommended to me by my favorite book dealer ;p I took the sample at first and forgot it on my kindle.This morning at 1h30 A.M. I woke up and couldn't sleep anymore, so I took my kindle and remembered this book.As soon as I started reading I got fascinated by Mrs. Kaye's writing and by the two characters that started to unfold in front of me.Makenna and Caden are two strangers, that take the same elevator, without noticing each other too much until the light and the elevator itself shut down. Makenna's day couldn't get any worse and she is exhausted, but now sharing this elevator with an unknown sexy, claustrophobic stranger is a totally new challenge to her. Caden did not expect this sweet red hair to be able to calm him and draw to him that much. Both start to share their stories, their pains, their pleasures and fears. But what will happen when the light turn back on, Will they still fascinate each other?The story has a great rhythm, nothing is too long, and nothing too short... the characters are wonderfully described. Both are equally sweet and fragile, respectful of the other and needy. Mrs. Kaye created two wonderful characters, I had no problem falling in love with. Both are so cautious to not force themselves on the other that the entire story becomes very realistic by a slow evolution.I couldn't drop the book before finishing it. I loved its beginning, its end and everything in between. Well the smoking hot sex is not unpleasant either ;).As a conclusion be aware that it is a short story (112 pages) without turns and twists in the plot, but simply a discovery of the two characters and their discovery of each other.I hope you will enjoy this wonderfully romantic and hot short story. Short, but good!Von SchenniSuddenly caught in a broken elevator Makenna and Caden don't know what hit them, but from one second to another it's pitch black dark around them and nothing is moving. They don't know each other, they don't know what the other person looks like, but they definitely need each other to get sanely through this disturbing experience.This was short, sexy and sweet, with two very likable characters and an appealing storyline. It's just the book you need if you have a bit of free time in the afternoon because despite of the smaller amount of pages (112) there was a suprising depth to the story, the characters' pasts and the budding feelings between the protagonists.I really enjoyed how the author used the short amount of time to build the relationship between those two. She took her time to let the two of them get to know each other (while they were talkig to distract themselves), but there was always this pleasurable and understated tension between them. Still, they didn't just jump each other, but instead thought about the possible consequences (but don't worry, there are still some very well written love scenes).Something else I appretiated was the fact that they were both honest enough to admit that the looks of the other person had some importance, but at the same time they didn't let it stop them from "falling in like" with each other. They were honest to themselves and to each other, which made me like them even more!The only thing that bothered me a bit was the abrupt ending. I didn't feel like their story was finished. It wasn't unsatisfying, but I still would have wished for a more detailed ending.This story was romantic and to the point. I'll definitely have to check out other books by the author!

KurzbeschreibungTwo strangersMakenna James thinks her day can't get any worse, until she finds herself stranded in a pitch-black elevator with a complete stranger. Distracted by a phone call, the pin-striped accountant catches only a glimpse of a dragon tattoo on his hand before the lights go out.Four hoursCaden Grayson is amused when a harried redhead dashes into his elevator fumbling her bags and cell phone. His amusement turns to panic when the power fails. Despite his piercings, tats, and vicious scar, he's terrified of the dark and confined spaces. Now, he's trapped in his own worst nightmare.One pitch-black elevatorTo fight fear, they must reach out and open up. With no preconceived notions based on looks to hold them back, they discover just how much they have in common. In the warming darkness, attraction grows and sparks fly, but will they feel the same when the lights come back on?KurzbeschreibungTwo strangersMakenna James thinks her day can't get any worse, until she finds herself stranded in a pitch-black elevator with a complete stranger.
