Von Jay Northcote : Helping Hand (Housemates Book 1) (English Edition) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Helping Hand (Housemates Book 1) (English Edition):

Kurzbeschreibung Falling for your 'straight' friend can only end badly, unless there's a chance he feels the same. Jez

Fielding and James MacKenzie--Big Mac to his mates--are in their second year at uni. After partying too hard last year, they make a pact to rein themselves in. While their housemates are out drinking every weekend, Jez and Mac stay in to save cash and focus on their studies. When Jez suggests watching some porn together, he isn't expecting Mac to agree to it. One thing leads to another, and soon their arrangement becomes hands-on rather than hands-off. But falling for your 'straight' friend can only end badly, unless there's a chance he might feel the same. Length: 33,000 words ber den Autor und weitere Mitwirkende Jay lives just outside Bristol in the West of England. He comes from a family of writers, but always used to believe that the gene for fiction writing had passed him by. He spent years only ever writing emails, articles, or website content. One day, Jay decided to try and write a short story just to see if he could and found it rather addictive. He hasn't stopped writing since. Jay writes contemporary romance about men who fall in love with other men. Jay has five books published by Dreamspinner Press, and he also self-publishes under the imprint Jaybird Press. Jay is transgender and was formerly known as she/her.
